

Executive Proclamation

Office of the Governor

Whereas, Jacque Fuller has served the people of South Dakota as a charter member of the Board of Economic Development; and,

Whereas, Jacque has been instrumental in fostering economic development in the state of South Dakota, by committing countless hours to the board; and,

Whereas, Jacque's desire to make the state better, prompted her to lead the charge on restoring the Lead Opera House and opening its doors this summer to the Center for Theoretical Underground Physics and Related Areas conference in conjunction with the continued efforts at the Sanford Underground Lab; and,

Whereas, Jacque's commitment to the board was evident not only by her insight into the business world, but also by her attendance at nearly every board meeting during the last 24 years; and,

Whereas, Jacque has become like family to the many members who have served on the board during her tenure; and,

Whereas, It is fitting and proper as Governor to congratulate Jacque for her dedication, passion, and willingness to serve the people of this great state:

Now, Therefore, I, Dennis Daugaard, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim April 12, 2011, as in South Dakota, and I join with her family and friends, to thank her for her service.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Eleventh Day of April in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Eleven.

Dennis Daugaard
